

hannah ross
ed therapy group

Overview:

Privately owned educational therapy company looking for effective educational therapists and learning specialists for in-home sessions starting this summer and continuing into the 2019-2020 school year.

Imagine having the opportunity to change the learning trajectory of a struggling student. Envision transforming confusing or frustrating content into accessible and understandable subject matter for a student previously determined to give up. Picture yourself helping a student to love learning once again. As an educational therapist, you will get to do all of these things and so much more!

Role:

As an educational therapist, you will be tasked with providing individualized one-on-one support, while collaborating with a team to define goals for specific student learning. Weekly in-home sessions with students will include informal skills assessments, content area remediation, and executive functioning skill building. Outside of sessions, you will need to effectively communicate with teachers and other allied professionals, and also provide regular feedback to parents. While you will have autonomy in the work you do with your students, our therapists also have the added bonus of being able to collaborate and share resources with a team of like-minded colleagues.

This is a contract position that can be tailored to your current work environment. It is ideal for experienced teachers, learning specialists, certified educational therapists, or associate educational therapists.

Location:

Santa Monica, Westwood, Brentwood, Venice, Bel Air, West Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Pacific Palisades, etc.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree or higher in Education or related field
- Prior teaching or tutoring experience
- Willingness to drive to clients' homes on the Westside of Los Angeles
- Availability weekday afternoons and evenings
- Passion and enthusiasm for working with children
- Knowledge of current curriculums and the ability to present material to students in an engaging way
- Certification in Educational Therapy or current enrollment in a program for Educational Therapy is preferred
- Experience with remediation/intervention programs (Orton Gillingham, Lindamood-Bell, Wilson Reading etc.) is preferred
- AET membership is preferred

Benefits:

- Competitive pay, starting at $75/hour, commensurate with experience
- Collaboration with like-minded professionals
- Valuable experience working with a wide variety of students
- A great way to way to learn about the field of Educational Therapy!

If interested, please email your resume and a brief cover letter to hannahross.edtherapy@gmail.com. For more information, visit <http://hannahross.me/>.